Sanitation

– "The Hidden Disaster" that few People recognize or respect, all of which leads to far too little preparation.

- Failing to take timely and correct sanitation actions following a disaster causes devastating long-term sickness, disease and pestilence that can take generations to recover from.
Credit for the huge improvements in health and life expectancy over the past 150 years generally
- is given to the field of medicine. However, most of the improvements have actually come from the huge improvements in sanitization practices in all areas of life.
- Where sanitation is poor – Disease and Death Run Rampant

- Gratefully, in the U.S., we have very little experience with widespread sanitation breakdown. However, this means that it will catch most people off guard and the results will be devastating.
- The people of Haiti were better prepared than our people are. Should the U.S. have a "Haiti" level of event – disease and death from failed sanitation will be worse for us than it is for them!

Issues

– Failure to address the issues will cause results you do not want. Preparation now, determines your outcome.

- Today any minor injury or sickness is not an issue because you live with: normal physical stresses, normal emotional stresses, and functioning sanitation and health care systems.
- Following a disaster, minor injuries or sickness can quickly become deadly because of: high physical stresses, high emotional stresses, lack of proper rest, poor nutrition, failed sanitation system and loss of health care systems.
- When things really break down, it will be up to you: rescue may not be on the way, your actions and preparation now will determine your outcome. After all, it's all about stewardship.
- During disasters, infrastructure and related services are lost: Water, Sewer, Electricity, Communications, Transportation, Medical Services, Waste Collection, Insect/Vermin Suppression.
- During disasters, normal and critical services are not available because of: loss of a functioning infrastructure, loss of support and operations personnel, loss of power, water, fuels, transportation and communications.
- Most of the issues, functions, needs and solutions for normal sanitation is thought to be too crude, unrefined, dirty, or just things we don't talk about in modern society. Get over it and deal with it – failure to do so can kill you, your family and everyone around you.

Areas You Must Address

– You cannot skip any of these and you have to get it right for as long as necessary

1. Failed Sanitation Will Catch & Kill the Ignorant and Unprepared
 2. Why Sanitation Is a Hidden Disaster
 - Know Your Options and Act Now.
 3. The Disposal of Human Waste – The most serious issue
 - You Must Have a "Sewer-Down" Solution
 4. Protect Your Home Environment
 5. Keep Things Cleaned Up
 6. Cleaners and Sanitizers for the Long-Term
 7. Pest and Vermin Control

The Truth About Life: There is no doubt that tomorrow will come, and there is no dispute that things happen, but how you are prepared to meet tomorrow will make all the difference in the world. If you are prepared for the worst, then no matter what happens, it will be an adventure. Jim Phillips
